

Intonation Shift Practice

Jump up on one of the underlined words in each numbered sentence, and then identify the corresponding meaning. Jump up on the correct word in the answer too.

Example (see the first set): Who's that girl with the red scarf.

a. I know who the boy with the red scarf is.

1. Who's that girl with the red scarf?

- a. I know who the boy with the red scarf is.
- b. I know who the girl with the black scarf is.
- c. I know who the other girl with the red scarf is.
- d. I know who the girl with the red sweater is.

2. Where did you go last week?

- a. I told you where I went, now you tell me.
- b. I know where you went this week.
- c. You told me where you went last month, but what about last week?
- d. I know where you didn't go.

3. Have you ever lived in the south of France?

- a. I know that you've lived in the south of Italy.
- b. I told you that I used to live in the south of France.
- c. I know you've traveled to the south of France.
- d. You told me you lived in the north of France once.

4. Why do you think he wants to call us?

- a. I wish we could meet in person.
- b. I know why she wants to call us.
- c. I guess we're the ones most responsible for the problem.
- d. I wonder if you have the same opinion that I do.

5. What do you think of Tom's new black shoes?

- a. I know you didn't like his old ones.
- b. I know what you thought of her new brown shoes.
- c. I know what you thought of Ted's shoes, what about Tom's?
- d. I think they look nice. What about you?
- e. I used to love his old ones.

6. Are you going to take him to lunch next Wednesday?

- a. You told me you're taking his wife out.
- b. I know you took him out this Wednesday.
- c. Have you decided yet?
- d. Or to dinner?
- e. I was planning on it, but I didn't know if you were.
- f. Or was it Thursday?