

Partner Practice - Emphasis for Agreement

Partner Practice Agreement A

Take turns reading sentences. Reassure your partner by using emphasis. Remember to add auxiliaries when necessary.

Example:

A: I think Shakespeare wrote Hamlet.

B: You're right. He did write Hamlet.

1. I'm pretty sure Bucharest is the capital of Romania.
2. It's hot in here.
3. I think I have to buy a new car.
4. It seems like she's always late.
5. They say that he's the one to talk to.
6. I feel like I'm overqualified for the job.
7. I guess you gave him a lot of money.
8. I think Mt. Everest is the tallest mountain in the world.
9. Mr. Smith has a lot of free time.
10. We didn't have to do it.

Partner Practice Agreement B

Take turns reading sentences. Reassure your partner by using emphasis. Remember to add auxiliaries when necessary.

Example:

A: I think Shakespeare wrote Hamlet.

B: You're right. He did write Hamlet.

1. I'm pretty sure he did his homework.
2. I think you should do it faster.
3. I guess there are 50 states in the U.S.
4. I feel like I'm losing my mind.
5. German is spoken in Austria.
6. I think he used to live in Mali.
7. Joe and Jim play tennis every Wednesday.
8. He had to do it by 7:00.
9. You're always talking about your job.
10. I guess they couldn't figure it out.